Consultants Present Library Governance Options Tonight

Waukesha, WIS. – The consulting firm of Himmel & Wilson will present an executive summary of the Library Governance Options Study – Final Report at the Waukesha County Cooperation Council meeting tonight at 7 p.m. The meeting will be held at the Courthouse in the County Board Room, which is located on the third floor.

Waukesha County Cooperation Council meetings are open to the public. Concerned citizens and the media are encouraged to attend to learn more about Himmel & Wilson's recommendations on library governance options.

Due to the new weapons screening process that the County has implemented, all visitors entering or exiting the Courthouse or Administration Center, which are connected by an enclosed walkway, must enter through the main Courthouse entrance at 515 W. Moreland Blvd. and will be required to go through a screening station.
